Dedication

JAMES W. COLLINS

We, the class of 1963, proudly dedicate our yearbook to one who has given of himself unselfishly through his devotion to teaching. We have gained tremendously from his fine example of fair play, understanding, boundless energy, and sparkling humor.

He has instilled in all of us a thorough knowledge and a deep appreciation of the American way of life.

As a small token of our sincere admiration for one who deserves so much, we dedicate to you, Dr. James W. Collins, the El Oro of 1963.

VICE PRINCIPAL

On my desk calendar for June 7, 1963, is a quotation: "One of the great advantages of success lies in the fact that you don't have to listen to good advice any more." Since none of us have achieved success of this magnitude, it is essential from time to time to seek, and give "good" advice.

It is not my intention to advise, but, rather to comment on the future and what it holds for you in this exciting world, and to suggest how you might enjoy life.

Folsom Senior High School ranks high on the list of California schools for its academic and co-curricular activities, calibre of students, and community interest in education. With these foundations at your disposal, it would appear that sincere devotion to learning should be uppermost in the minds of students. We need to develop a seriousness of purpose, a reason for learning.

The facilities, equipment, materials, and teaching staff are here, willing to help you. The decision is yours! The world is blessed most by people who do things, and not by those who merely talk about them.

PRINCIPAL

One well-known writer of educational philosophy has said, "It is well to acquire knowledge; it is even better to use it as a means to achieve a good life. But the process of learning should also be enjoyable in itself."

One of the most precious possessions that you may acquire in your life is knowledge. Even more important than the possession of knowledge is the manner in which you make use of it for the benefit of others as well as yourself.

The process of acquiring knowledge, like most things that are worth treasuring, is not obtained easily. You have expended considerable time and effort to achieve your present level of accomplishments.

You will find even greater satisfaction from your efforts as you become more proficient in your search in new areas of information that you will challenge and stimulate your inquisition, thought, and imagination.

With your increased knowledge and wisdom comes a realization and appreciation for your abilities. During your years at Folsom High School, you have achieved new heights in academic progress and maturity. We are proud of your accomplishments and commend you for outstanding work.

As students, all of us live as promises that our country and our American way of life shall forever be preserved. We are the sole promises of freedom, progress, and peace that our troubled world must rely upon if these concepts are to remain a reality. We each are faced with the ponderous responsibility of achieving the promise that our lives hold for the world around us. In preparation for this future, we have sought education at Folsom High School, Folsom, California.

Before long, the reality of Folsom as bricks and mortar, as classrooms and classes, will fade from each of our lives, and will be replaced with the memories of our high school days, our happiness, our depressions, our successes, our failures, our lives, our living, the fascinating and unforgettable experiences of our education.

We may and shall serve as living tributes to our school by fulfilling the potentials that we have gained as students here.

Long after her mortar fails and her bricks disintegrate, long after the last cheer dies down and the stadium is gone, our school will live in the fame of her student's children. She will thrive in the hearts and minds of the students to whom she taught the truth of freedom from a chair of gold, students who are eternally wealthy with the inspiring power of creativity, and men and women who, in ultimate tribute to their gracious parent will be the founders of "schools of truth" all over the world.

"Oh mother of truth, wise mentor of youth.

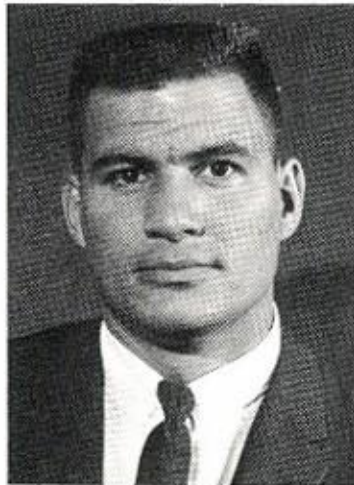

All hail to ye Folsom High."

Class History

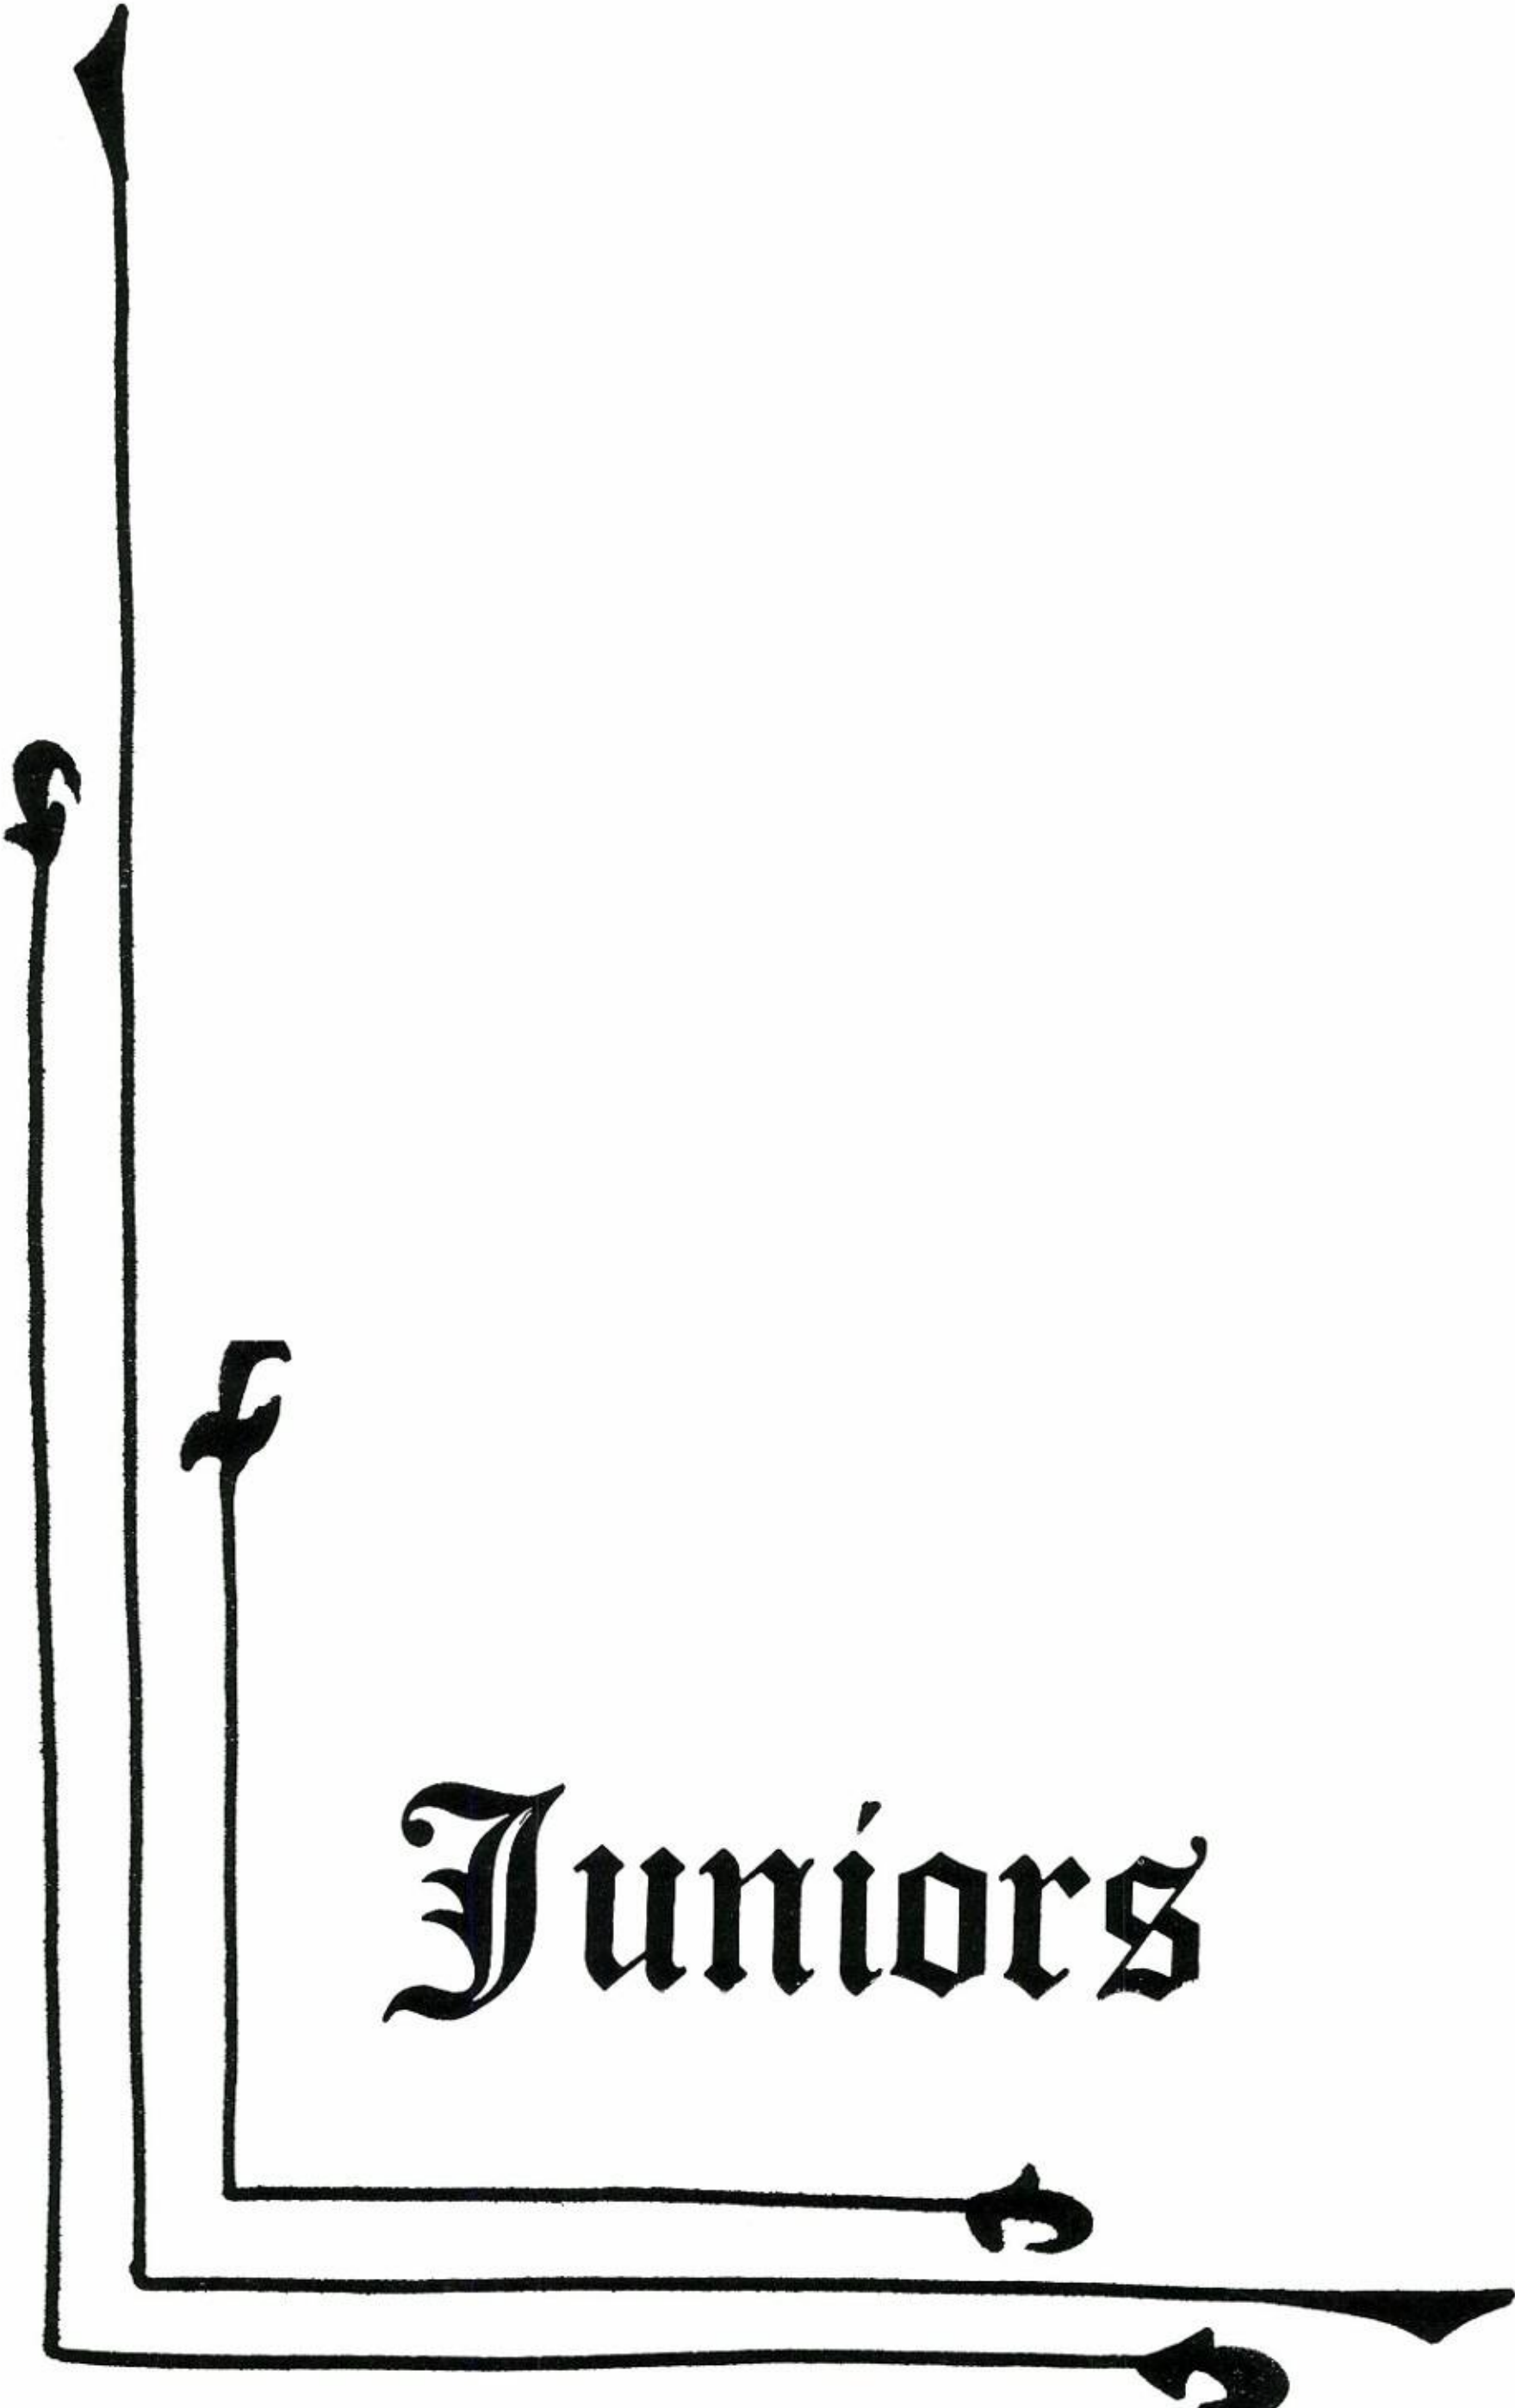

The Class of 1963 stepped into the hallowed halls of Folsom High School on September 8, 1959. The big event of the year was our Frosh dance.

Our exciting sophomore year was highlighted by our sophomore hop, "Tennis Shoe Trot."

We sponsored many successful activities during our year as mighty juniors. Our homecoming float captured the honors in the float competition. The Junior Prom, "Moonlight Mist," was staged in November with Alan Henderson and Bette Allen reigning as king and queen. We presented the Jr.-Sr. banquet in the spring in a "roaring twenties" theme.

Our tremendous senior year was celebrated by our sponsoring the Senior Ball, Senior Teach Day, Skip Day, another winning homecoming float, and our Baccalaureate. On June 7, 1963, we received our long awaited diplomas.

JUNIOR HISTORY

We, the class of '64, have spent two glorious years at Folsom Senior High School.

During our sophomore year we sponsored such activities as the annual Sophomore Dance. "Can the Cougars" was the title of our Homecoming float.

The junior prom, "Court of Illusions," was staged in November, 1962. Our king and queen were Stan Henderson and Rita Sylvernale. This spring we sponsored the annual Junior-Senior Banquet.

Looking back on these two fabulous years, we are anticipating an even greater year as mighty seniors of the class of 1964.

SOPHOMORE HISTORY

We, the Class of 1965, were led through a new and exciting year by Tom Smith, president, Ann Hall, vice president, Donna Brunia, treasurer, and Becky Farris, secretary.

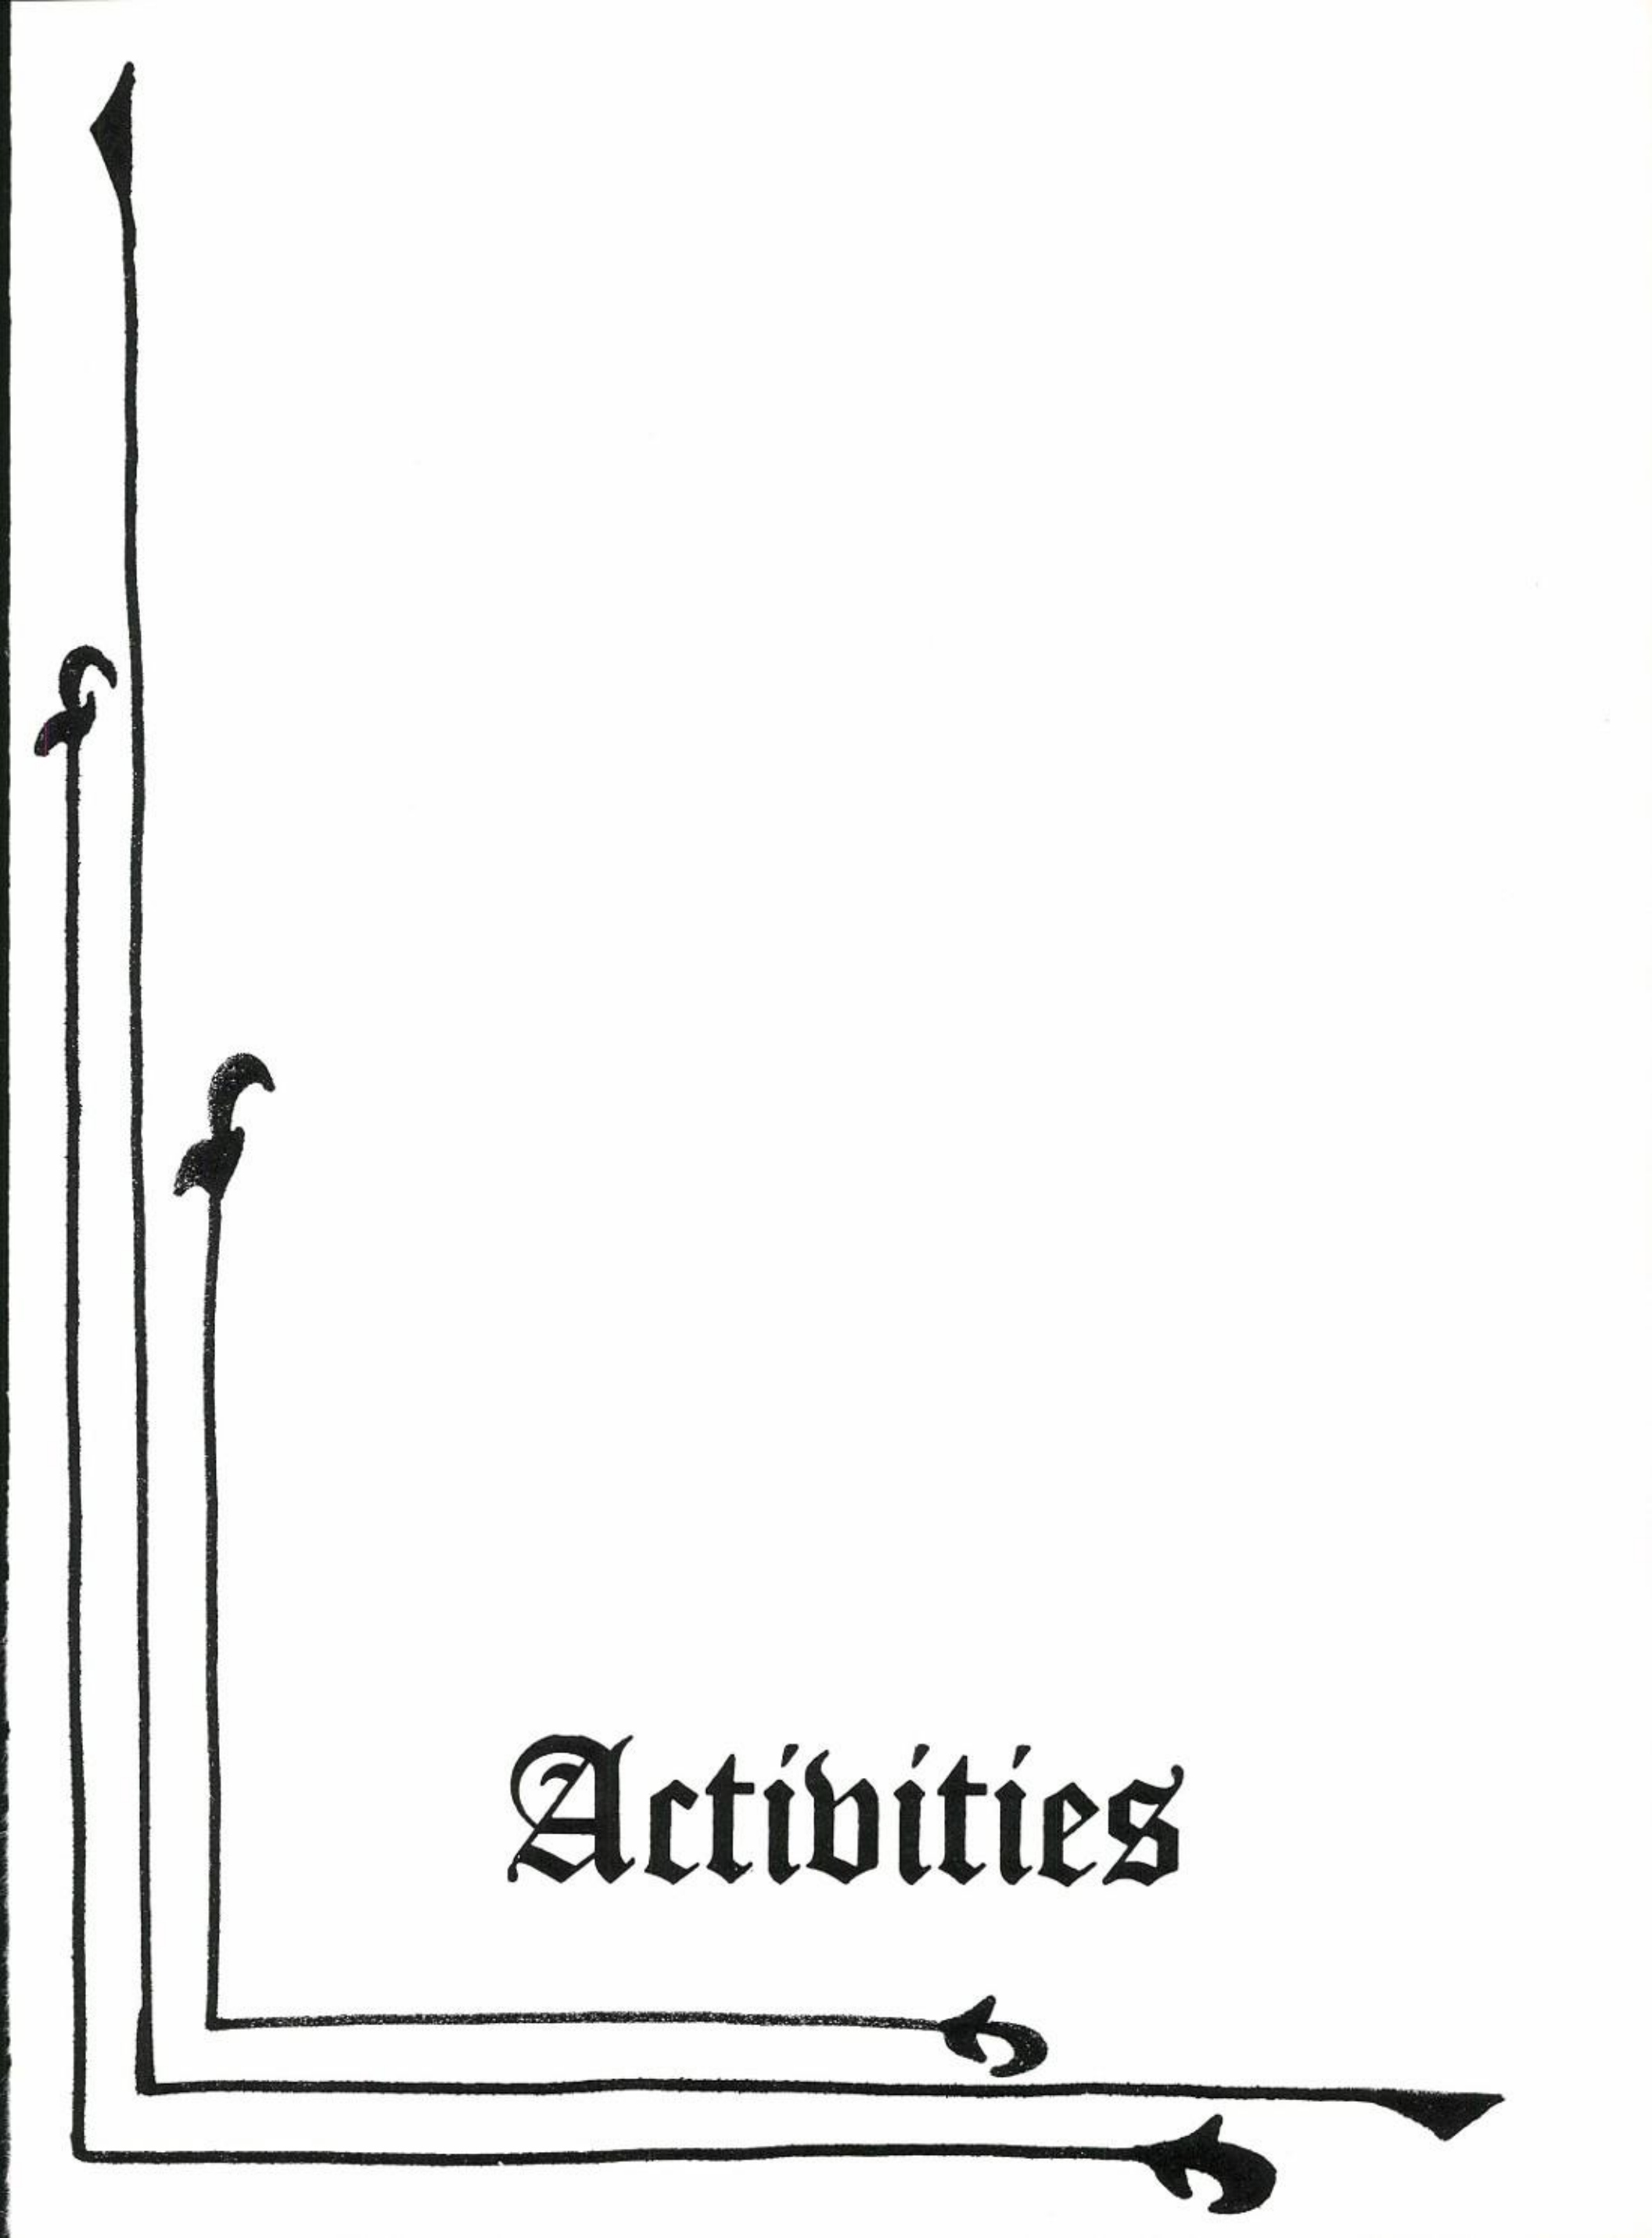

We have enjoyed competing with the seniors and juniors for the spirit jug and we won it several times.

Fun is the only way one can describe our sophomore year. Putting on the spring dance was our highlight of 1963.

Helping to make our year a success were our willing advisors: Mrs. Rumsey, Mr. Grimes, Mr. Jensen, Mr. Pumphrey, Mrs. Bilbo, Mr. Austin, and Miss Lynch.

We are looking eagerly forward to our junior year.

The Bulldog Barker, re-established at the beginning of the 62-63 school year, is manned by two staffs from the Journalism classes.

The Barker, being brought back to life after two years, has had to face many problems, one being an inexperienced staff and another a lack of funds. Cooperation with Mr. Jensen's duplicating machine class to mimeograph the paper, and with the typing classes to type copy, has helped the staff put out as professional looking a paper as possible.

A decorative border in a black, stylized, calligraphic font. It consists of several lines that form a frame around the text. The lines have ornate, curved ends, some resembling arrowheads or fleur-de-lis. The border starts at the top left, goes down, then right, then up, and finally right again, enclosing the text. There are also some vertical lines on the left side of the frame.
